"SPOKEN ENGLISH AND BROKEN ENGLISH"

by
G. Bernard Shaw

An invaluable record of the living voice of Mr. Bernard Shaw giving his views on the subject of which he is an acknowledged master—the English Language.

Mr. Shaw's fine voice is recorded on two double-sided 12-inch records with an accuracy and clearness worthy of the lucid, vivid style of his remarks.

Apart from their immediate educational value, the value of these unique records to future generations may be judged from the fact that the original records have been obtained for the National Collection by the authorities of the British Museum.

LINGUAPHONE LITERARY COURSES IN:

ITALIAN ENGLISH
ESPERANTO

These courses, consisting of extracts in prose and verse from the great writers of each country, are spoken by famous native elocutionists. They provide the best method of becoming familiar with the rhythm and intonation of foreign speech, as well as with the finest national literature.
