Narration

My dear friend

In this letter, I shall tell you the use of the animals in our camp.

I shall begin by the elephants. Indeed, they are the biggest animals and it is right to name them the first. They carry guns that the soldiers could not draw themselves. The elephants are precious animals and when they are ill, nobody knows how to care them.

The mules are very useful to bear the screw guns in the mountains. The screw guns are little guns made up of two pieces, that the soldiers can screw together. The mules are used to fight in rocky country because their feets are wise in the slippery mountains paths.

For this letter.
